

FREIGHT TRAIN RIPPED BY EXPLOSION—Firemen pour streams of water on burning cars of a Florida East Coast freight train that was ripped apart by an explosion that tossed cars across an adjacent highway and others into a canal near the north edge of Miami, Fla. The explosion occurred as the train crossed a trestle over the canal. Eleven non-operating unions have been on strike against the railroad for 13 months and the company has been operating with non-union personnel.

For Ways and Means Study

Health Care Plan Lodged In Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's main health proposal, enactment of a care plan for the elderly under Social Security, appeared to be locked today in the House Ways and Means Committee. Its predecessors have been locked there for years.

The committee plans sessions on the measure, perhaps as early as the first week of March but there was no sign that more than 12 of the 25 members' votes could be gained to send it to the House.

Friends and foes of the plan agreed its only chance—and a slim one—was that a compromise acceptable to Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., can be worked out.

However, another recommendation Johnson made in a special message to Congress Monday—a five-year extension and broadening of the program for federal help in building hospitals—had brighter prospects.

Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., of the House Commerce Committee, which handles hospital aid legislation, said "indeed we will" have hearings soon.

"We have to move fast because the present authorization expires June 30," Harris said. Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House Democratic leader, said he thinks the hospital program stands an excellent chance of enactment this year as it has "always been a popular program in Congress."

Johnson did not spell out his proposal for medical insurance for the elderly under Social Security financing. He presumably wants a program like the one the late President John F. Kennedy sought, which is embodied in the King-Anderson bill.

The bill calls for a guarantee of hospital, nursing home and some outpatient services to those over 65. The Social Security pay roll tax would be increased by one-quarter of 1 percent each on employers and employees and its coverage broadened from $4,800 of earnings to $5,200. For aged outside the Social Security System, general appropriations would pay the way.

The judge has said he asked the agency to handle the mechanics of courtroom seating arrangements — and nothing more.

Crackdown On Roaming Pets In City

Mayor L. L. Studer said today that there is every indication that more than a hundred dogs in Sedalia have not been vaccinated nor City licenses purchased.

A written notice will be served on the owners that they will be granted five (5) days to have their dogs vaccinated and license purchased and failure to do this will result in the dog being picked up or a warrant issued for the arrest of the owner.

"There is also a large number of dogs that are covered by City licenses that are being permitted by owners to roam the streets (without leashes) in violation of City Ordinances," the mayor noted. "They will be picked up and could cost the owner $5 for each day the dog is unclaimed and impounded," he said.

Many owners, Mayor Studer notes, are faithfully complying with City Ordinances and it is discriminatory and unfair to them, not to require all other owners to comply.

Fair Trial Doubts In Ruby Case

DALLAS (AP) — Two civic leaders testified today Jack Ruby would have a hard time getting a fair trial in Dallas on the charge that he murdered accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Stanley Marcus, president of the Nieman-Marcus Store, said: "I have great reservations whether the defense or the prosecution can get a fair trial in Dallas."

He said a fair trial would be "more likely some other place than here"—but he didn't know where.

Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas County Criminal Bar Association, told defense attorneys "it would be most difficult" to give Ruby a fair trial "while the nation is trying Dallas."

Ruby stepped out of a crowd of newsmen and shot Oswald to death on Nov. 24 as Oswald was being transferred from city jail to county jail. Oswald had been charged with murder in the assassination of President Kennedy and the killing of Dallas Patrolman J.D. Tippit two days earlier.

Fowler said he believes many people in Dallas feel "the two shootings were synonymous."

Marcus and Fowler testified in the second day of a hearing on a defense motion to move

Special Council Meet Set On Civil Defense

Civil Defense Director Jack Kraus said Tuesday morning that he had received a request from Mayor L. L. Studer asking him to attend a special meeting of the City Council on Thursday night at 7 p.m.

The request was made to him today, Kraus said.

"According to the mayor, the special council session will be held in the mayor's office," Kraus said. "This meeting is for the purpose of discussing Civil Defense. The mayor's letter indicated that all city councilmen had been requested to attend this meeting."

City Council at its last session tabled a discussion as to the fate of Civil Defense until the regular Feb. 17 meeting.

Orders Probe Into Sinking Of Destroyer

85 Still Missing Aboard Australian Pushbutton Ship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies ordered a public investigation today in the sinking of Australia's first pushbutton destroyer, the Voyager, after a collision with the carrier Melbourne Monday night.

The navy said an air and sea search is continuing off the Australian coast for 85 missing crew members of the 3,500-ton destroyer. There were fears many went down with their ship. Nine of the Voyager's 17 officers were among the missing.

Calling the disaster shocking and unparalleled in Australia's peacetime naval history, Menzies said a normal navy inquiry was inadequate. He said he would appoint a judge to investigate.

The 20,000-ton Melbourne, the Australian navy's flagship, smashed into the Voyager amidship, breaking the destroyer in half. The Voyager's bow section sank within minutes. The after section remained afloat for nearly three hours.

The Voyager carried 342 officers and men. At least 257 were rescued.

No casualties were reported aboard the carrier. Its bow badly battered, the Melbourne continued under her own power to Sydney, 120 miles north. The collision occurred 20 miles off the coast, near the Jervis Bay naval base, shortly after 9 p.m.

Both ships were equipped with radar-controlled steering, and their modern equipment was a source of pride to the Australian navy.

The Voyager, launched in 1957 was the largest destroyer ever built in Australia. With her anti-aircraft guns as well as steering controlled by radar, the electronically guided vessel

State Industrial Panel Chairman Killed in Wreck

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Smith N. Crowe Jr., 45, chairman of the state Industrial Commission, was killed today in a head-on crash near Ashland, Mo.

Crowe, an attorney, commuted from his home at Columbia.

The highway patrol said his car swerved to avoid a pickup truck that was turning west from U.S. 63 and crashed head-on into another pickup that was driven by George J. Rehagen, 29, of Linn.

Rehagen was treated at a Jefferson City hospital for head cuts and released.

Henry C. Whitworth, 33, of Hartsburg, was the driver of the truck that Crowe was trying to avoid. He was not hurt.

The accident happened in heavy fog about three miles south of Ashland.

Rights Bill House Approval Hailed As 'Historic Step'

Tougher Fight Facing Legislation In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved the civil rights bill in an overwhelming vote hailed by President Johnson as "an historic step forward for the cause of dignity in America." It now faces a tougher battle in the Senate where Southerners hope to whittle it down with talk.

As turned out by the House in a 290-130 roll call Monday night, the bill amounts to the most sweeping civil rights legislation in history. Southern efforts to water it down were crushed at every turn by a coalition of Republicans and Northern Democrats.

But in the Senate with its different rules of debate, the Southerners hold the weapon of a filibuster and hope to weaken the measure by forcing a compromise.

Girding for the battle ahead, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield outlined parliamentary moves Monday designed to delay Senate action on civil rights until the tax cut bill clears Congress, probably by the end of the month.

Johnson, in a statement, paid tribute to the bipartisan nature of the triumph in the House, declaring:

"It represents the culmination of months of hard work by men of good will in both parties."

"Now the task is before the Senate. I hope the same spirit of nonpartisanship will prevail there to assure passage of this bill guaranteeing the fundamental rights of all Americans."

Voting for the bill in the House were 152 Democrats and 138 Republicans. Voting against it were 96 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

The bill is aimed at ending racial discrimination in employment, public accommodations, voting, schools and other public facilities, and in federally aided programs. A new section added just before passage would create a community relations service to mediate racial disputes.

New Soviet Bases Underway In Cuba

MEXICO CITY (AP) — New Soviet military bases are being built in Cuba's eastern Oriente Province, a leading anti-Castro group reported Monday.

Angel Gonzalez, delegate of the Cuban Student Revolutionary Directorate, said installations are being erected around Santiago de Cuba, Palma Soriano, Nipe Bay, Minas del Frio, Antillas and Guantanamo, site of the U.S. naval base.

Honor 2 'Good Citizens'

Rebecca Cramer and Bruce Sparling have been named to receive the Smith-Cotton PTA Good Citizenship Award for the second quarter of the school year.

These two young people are at the top of the list of fine young citizens, not only of Smith-Cotton but of the entire area. Only two can be selected at Smith-Cotton for the quarter and unknown judges have been watching the students of the school, weighing the qualities of each in school and out of school, their courteous manner to everyone, their willingness to do things as they are asked, the many things that go into making outstanding citizens.

It isn't easy to choose two from the many who deserve recognition, that is why it is such a distinct honor to be chosen to receive this award, for only those with the highest qualities receive it.

Grades nor activities do not enter into the choice, although high grades and many activities do not hinder students from receiving it, but the award is strictly on character, high qualities, and friendly manner.

Rebecca, whom most people call Becky, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cramer, 2125 East Broadway. She is 17 and a junior. Recently she was appointed associate editor of the Tiger Tales, the school paper, and will assist the editor, Miss Sandy Long, in performance of her routine duties so that the paper will not be hampered in its operation during the first month of next year, when she will take over the full duties of editor. She started on the paper as music reporter and has written other special features.

She is a member of the Journalism Club, Spiz Club, the orchestra, Future Teachers, and the National Honor Society. In addition she is Smith-Cotton's radio news announcer at KSIS, is a member of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra and has seven piano students. During 1963 she played in the All State Orchestra and has played in numerous contests. She has participated in the Central Missouri Orchestra Clinic for two years, and each year since the eighth grade has entered the annual music contests, going to district contests two years. She serves as pianist for the Christian Assembly.

Becky has one sister, Joy, 15. Bruce Sparling is the son of

By Oswald's Mother

Testimony Sheds No New Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald looked folksy and comfortable, a grandmotherly type in horn-rimmed spectacles.

She had a smile for the cameras and a statement ready for the press, but she didn't get to make it.

Mrs. Oswald, 56, has been shushed firmly by a lawyer who thinks she should save her talking for the ears of the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

And talk she did, behind closed doors. She testified for six solid hours Monday without saying anything which, in the opinion of Chief Justice Earl Warren, "would change the picture" of her son's role in the tragedy.

Nor did she claim that Lee

Harvey Oswald, the truant son who at 13 was diagnosed as a potentially "dangerous person," did not fire the shots on Nov. 22 that killed Kennedy and wounded Gov. John Connally of Texas.

But as Warren observed, the commission has not yet interrupted the flow of testimony to ask that question, and he advised newsmen not to draw any inferences from the omission, because: "We have hardly asked her any questions throughout the day and of course she says she has more testimony to give."

The lawyer who first took up the mother's case, Mark Lane of New York City, was not on hand Monday. Mrs. Oswald asked that a new lawyer be provided.

The commission asked the District of Columbia Bar Association which designated John F. Boyle, formerly of Kansas City, a highly regarded Washington lawyer and a former assistant U.S. attorney.

Merchandise And Auto Are Stolen

Thieves made a hurried job of stealing a 1957 Oldsmobile station wagon and removing its contents, Monday afternoon. The vehicle was stolen from north of the Old Missouri Homestead about 3:50 o'clock, then driven to the Crown Hill Cemetery where the contents were removed.

The vehicle, the property of the M. and L. Vending Co., had more than 150 cartons of cigarettes representing 22 popular brands, and more than $200 in nickels, dimes and quarters, in it when taken.

Jerry McBain, Route 3, Sedalia, was making a service call at the Old Missouri Homestead and had been away from his vehicle for not more than 10 minutes. The motor had been left running, but the doors were locked.

The thieves smashed out a vent on the left side through which they reached in to unlock the door. The station wagon was apparently driven directly to the cemetery where the driver was met by others in another automobile and made quick work of unloading the cigarettes and taking the money.

Assistant Chief William Miller left the police station immediately upon learning of the theft, driving to an area near Hubbard Park, which had been a place where automobiles have in previous occasions had been "set down," and then drove directly to the Crown Hill Cemetery for a check and found the car about 4:30 o'clock.

Foot prints and prints of the other car were examined for a possible lead to the thieves.

The station wagon had been left parked on the first road just inside the south gate to the cemetery, which opens on to Brown Avenue.

Greek March Greets Ball In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A clash between police and thousands of Greek students trying to march on the U.S. and British embassies greeted Undersecretary of State George Ball on his Cyprus peace mission Monday.

Demanding union of Cyprus with Greece, the students demonstrated to underscore their opposition to the London-Washington plan for an international peace force to police Cyprus.

Ball was reported to have run into an unexpected check in trying to win Greek approval of the plan. He delayed his departure for Turkey, second stop on his mission.

Informed sources said Greece approved the peace force plan provided it first got approval of the U.N. Security Council. The Soviet Union, which opposes the peace force, could veto it in the council.

Government sources in Nicosia said the president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, was certain to reject the plan, unless the proposed force was placed under Security Council control. Makarios was said to have conferred with advisers on the best way to bring the Cyprus issue before the Security Council.

A British force has been trying to keep the peace between Turkish and Greek Cypriots, engaged in bloody clashes since last December. The United States and other Atlantic alliance nations would contribute soldiers to the peace force under the U.S.-British plan.

To meet Greek Cypriot objections, London and Washington agreed to some sort of link between the United Nations and the peace force, but have refused to consider Security Council control of it.

The clash between police and students erupted after Mayor Angelos Tsoukalas of Athens told a rally the Cyprus issue should be decided by residents of the island where Greek Cypriots outnumber Turkish Cypriots 4 to 1.

Student crowds, calling for union with Greece, hoisted placards reading: "We are ready for sacrifices, give us arms."

Ratings Rule Whether A Show Returns

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What can television viewers, distressed by reports of cancelled programs, do to save their favorite shows? Very little.

They can write letters to the networks. But the fate of most entertainment programs hangs on the size of viewing audiences based on estimates made by a research organization.

In prime evening time—between 7:30 and 11 p.m.—the number of sets tuned to any one network program runs between 10 million and 16 million. In general, any show that attracts 30 per cent or more of the estimated sets in use probably will survive for another season.

To over-simplify the complicated ratings situation, let us assume a sponsor invests $1,000 in a program that is seen on 10,000 sets. That means it costs him $100 to reach 1,000 families. On the other hand, if 100,000 sets are tuned to his program, that cost per thousand is reduced to $10.

The one thing which interests most sponsors of entertainment shows is reaching the largest possible number of potential customers for the lowest possible cost.

Those incredible Beatles probably have rolled up a television audience record on Sunday night's Ed Sullivan show. According to Nielsen samplings taken in only the New York Metropolitan area, a massive 72.7 per cent of all sets in use during the hour were tuned to CBS. A rival rating service, Arbitron, found that Sullivan's normal Sunday night audience had just about doubled. National ratings won't be available for a couple of weeks.

Ruby's trial to another city. Belli asked Marcus if a feeling that Ruby "brought down trouble on Dallas" might unconsciously play a part in deliberations by Dallas jurors.

Marcus replied: "There might be."

In cross-examination, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade asked whether jurors in some other Texas city might not unconsciously try to protect the state's image. "I don't think so," Marcus said. "Texas doesn't take this as a personal matter as Dallas does."

Defense attorneys asked Fowler how he felt about the fact the Bloom Advertising Agency has represented Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown in dealing with newsmen in some aspects of coverage.

Fowler said such representation was unprecedented and at first he thought it was a step not in the right direction—but, questioned by the state, he said he now felt it was "a workable thing and that the judge has done an excellent job."

Defense attorney Joe Tonahill suggested the agency's job was to exclude certain newsmen from the court and let in others who would be sympathetic to the image of Dallas.

Judge Brown replied, saying he excluded no newsmen.

Asked by the state if he thought it would be impossible to obtain an impartial jury here, Fowler said: "You can tell only when you have confrontation and eye-ball-to-eye-ball examination of prospective jurors."

As the testimony went on, Ruby, pallid from confinement, nervously wiped his forehead, leaned his cheek on his fist and stared down at the floor.

Belli told newsmen today that if a transfer is not granted, he will be ready to begin the trial Monday.

Rotary Hears Of Youth's Foreign Tour

John William Vandekamp, a Smith-Cotton high school senior, gave an interesting account of his six week tour of England and Holland during the past summer to members of the Sedalia Rotary Club on Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

Following his talk of the highlights of his trip and a description of the education, social and economic life of the two countries as he had observed them, he was assisted by his father in showing many interesting slides of points of interest which he visited. His father, John Vandekamp, came to Sedalia from Holland as a young man and the family has many relatives in the two countries with whom young John lived and visited on his trip.

Omer West introduced the program in the absence of Wally Wise, February program chairman, who, it was announced, is in a Springfield, Mo., hospital.

Harry Walch, club president, announced a meeting of the board of directors would be held Tuesday noon at Flat Creek Inn.

Guests presented by Oscar DeWolf were Morton Tuttle, Rotarian of Boonville, Mo., and Roger McClung and Harlan Rosman, Smith-Cotton student guests.

Lawrence Brown gave the invocation. Aubrey Case led in group singing with Mrs. Mae Pulliam accompanying at the piano.

Social Welfare Meeting Slated

"The Challenge Of The Drop-Out" will be discussed at the Winter Meeting of the West Central Division, Missouri Association for Social Welfare, to be held in Warrensburg Feb. 13, according to Miss Ara Morris, Higginsville, Division Chairman. The meeting will begin with dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Student Union Building on the Campus of Central Missouri State College.

Dr. J. Glenn Travis, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of the Kansas City Public Schools, will discuss "The School's Concern For The Drop-Out." Allen Kelsay of Jefferson City, Youth Program Supervisor State Division of Employment Security, will speak to "The Challenge Is Yours."

"When I'm Old Enough, Good-bye," film produced by the U.S. Department of Labor, will precede the discussions.

The Rev. Clyde Miller, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Warrensburg, will give the invocation.

Mrs. Mary Kay Hunter, Sedalia, West Central Division, MASW, Program Chairman, will moderate the meeting.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Irene Galbraith, at the County Welfare Office in Warrensburg, or by calling her at Warrensburg, 747-7511. The cost is $2.25 per person.

The meeting is open to the public.

Donald J. Stohr Seeks Re-election

Donald J. Stohr, former Sedalian now residing at University City, Mo., St. Louis, has filed for re-election as Republican County Committeeman from the Creve-Coeur Township. Stohr is the Republican County Chairman of St. Louis County, having assumed that position last March.

Stohr was the Republican candidate for State's Attorney General in 1962. He is vice-president of the John Marshall Republican Lawyers Club, and since moving to St. Louis has been active in Republican politics.

He is married and has three daughters.

Stohr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Stohr, 904 South Prospect.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a career girl in my late 30's. My brother is 46 and unmarried also. He has his own apartment and I have mine.

Several weeks ago we were talking about the lonely lives we both lead. I realized for the first time that he's as miserable as I am. It occurred to us that if we pooled our resources and got a large apartment in one of the newer buildings we could live together for less than we are spending now, and enjoy each other's company.

When I told friends that my apartment would soon be available because my brother and I plan to take a place together, the eyebrows shot up and the jaws dropped. One person said it sounds immoral and that I should prepare myself for some vicious gossip.

We think you are level-headed. What is your opinion?—S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: Most brothers and sisters grow up in the same house, don't they? So why is it immoral if they live together in later years? You know some mighty funny people, Lady. After you find yourself a new apartment I suggest you find some new friends.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time but have been reluctant to do so. To be perfectly candid, what is really bothering me is the fear that the people who work in our newspaper office might see my letter.

I am well-known in town and I can't afford to have my trouble known. Other prominent people are involved in this mess and it wouldn't take much imagination to figure out who they are.

No doubt many readers around the country would like to write to you for help but they, too, are afraid their letters may be opened by the home town newspaper. Will you please clarify in print the handling of your mail?—FAITHFUL FAN.

Dear Faithful: All letters addressed to Ann Landers are forwarded to me every week—unopened.

Your local newspaper editor understands that the letters written by his subscribers to Ann Landers are strictly personal. Anyone who wishes to write to me about an intimate problem may do so, secure in the knowledge that his confidence will be respected.

Dear Ann Landers: I need sympathy so please go easy on me. I shouldn't have gotten into this fix but I'm in it now and I must have guidance from someone who can think straight.

I entered college on a scholarship at 16—a quiz kid type. Better I should have been wiser in the ways of the world and not so book-smart. Today I am barely 19, a senior and three months pregnant. The man is a married student. 22. His wife is working to put him through school.

He says she is a wonderful person but plain. He lost interest in her when he met me. She knows something is going on but she doesn't know what—or who.

My parents live in a distant city and would die if they knew. Should I go to a home for unwed mothers and get this over with quietly or get the man to marry me? I know he will if I turn on the heat.—BRAINY BUT NOT SMART.

Dear Not Smart: Leave the heat alone. It sounds as if you've turned it on too good already.

Go to a home for unwed mothers and "get it over with quietly." If you pressure this man into marriage you can be sure he will lose interest in you when someone more attractive comes along—just as he did with his "wonderful but plain" wife.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Debaters Score In Tournament At Springfield

Bob Gouge and Ted Wells, seniors at Smith-Cotton placed second in the regular division of debate at the Parkview High School Speech and Debate Tournament held last Friday and Saturday in Springfield, Mo. Gouge and Wells were undefeated in the preliminary rounds as well as the quarter-final and semi-final rounds. They lost in the final round supporting the affirmative side of the resolution to a team from William Chrisman High School in Independence, Mo. They defeated another team from that school in the semi-final round.

Arthur Hoffman and John Owen, juniors, entered the quarter-finals in the championship division but were defeated by debaters from Seminole, Okla. Owen and Hoffman had been undefeated through six rounds of preliminary debating.

Smith-Cotton was the only school to place teams in both divisions in the elimination rounds. Thirty schools from Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma sent teams to the tournament, the biggest in Missouri.

Smith-Cotton's two duet acting teams qualified for the finals in that part of the forensic competition. Tonna Handley and Carol Murphree were unable to participate in the finals after an elimination procedure by tournament officials because of the great number of teams which had qualified for the final round. Carl Espelin and Bob Gouge, the other team, went on to place fourth. This was the first time the boys had been entered in competition of this sort.

The next major tournament on Smith-Cotton's schedule will be held in Neosho, Mo., in the later part of March.

UNIVERSITY CURATORS Citations for leadership and assistance were awarded Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welliver of Flat Creek Township, (left), and to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson of Heath Creek, (right). The occasion was the 40th Annual Soils and Crops Conference. The awards were made by William J. (Bill) Murphy at present a Field Crops Specialist at the University but formerly an assistant county agent in Pettis County.

not present included Marvin Howard, C. W. Monsees, Chester Morgan, Irwin Smith and Sam Sloan. Four of them, McClure, Chaney, Tobaben and Raabe, were featured on the Soils and Crops program Saturday. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Snowstorm Blankets Mid-Atlantic States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A storm moving from Missouri and Kentucky spread northeastward today, dumping heavy snow in most of the middle Atlantic states.

Seven inches of snow covered areas in southern Missouri, with more than six inches in northern Kentucky. As the storm moved north-eastward, snow amounts of seven inches were reported in Huntington, W. Va.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were in effect for areas from Maryland northward to extreme northeastern New York and southwestward into West Virginia. The snow was expected to taper off as the storm headed into northern New England.

Damaging Erosion

Red Agricultural Troubles Made Worse by 'Dust Bowls'

MOSCOW (AP)—The dust bowls that plagued the United States in the 1930s have come to the Soviet Union, already beset by grain and meat shortages.

Agriculture Minister Ivan Volovchenko told the Communist party Central Committee Monday that about three million acres of arable land are abandoned each year in the Soviet Union.

"Wind and water erosion are inflicting tremendous damage on agriculture," he told a committee meeting in the Kremlin. "We must take all measures for the restoration and preservation of the fertility of eroded soil."

"In our opinion, it is necessary to adopt a special law which would provide for the strict accountability of all departments, organizations, collective and state farms for preserving soil riches and for the sensible use of agricultural land."

Not all the three million acres abandoned annually are dust bowls.

"Huge areas are subjected to erosion, become overgrown with brush, are turned into swamps and are taken out of agricultural use," Volovchenko said.

While he did not say so, wind damage is high in the arid virgin lands of Kazakhstan and Siberia that Premier Khrushchev ordered plowed up to boost grain production.

There is not enough rainfall in these areas to provide a crop cover against the winds. This was the case in the dust bowls of the U.S. Southwest and High Plains three decades ago.

An Autopsy Hints Death Was Suicide

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Donald A. Phelan, retired Army colonel who was found dead in a Kansas City hotel on Jan. 21, may have committed suicide, an autopsy report suggests.

Maj. James Newman, detective chief, who received the report Monday, said the death will not be classed as suicide until all the evidence is reviewed.

Phelan, 51, of Chevy Chase, Md., had been working as a civil engineer for a Boston firm of consulting engineers at the Minuteman missile sites near Warrensburg, Mo. He came to Kansas City to catch a plane for the East.

He was stabbed in the heart with a knife that was found under his body. There were two slight wounds near the fatal wound.

Dr. Angelo Lapi, a pathologist said in his report:

"The satellite hesitation marks adjacent to the wound strongly support suicide as the means of death."

The report said other factors included "historical data suggesting emotional and mental disturbances in recent days in which the loss of the decedent's job may have played an important role."

Maj. Newman said Phelan had been relieved of his duties at the missile sites but had not been fired.

Police Chief Dies After Saving Life

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Les Peterman, police chief in suburban Bentleyville, died of a heart attack minutes after administering oxygen to a heart attack victim Monday night.

Peterman was called to the home of George C. Breymaier, 54, who had been stricken. The police chief used an oxygen tank, applying a face mask to Breymaier, and restored him to consciousness.

Then Peterman walked into the kitchen and collapsed.

Efforts of Breymaier to use the oxygen tank on his rescuer were unsuccessful.

A Source of Strength...

How many boys have been and are now identified with the Boy Scout organization? A rough guess would be 40,000,000 on this 54th anniversary being observed through Thursday both nationally and locally.

The Scouts who went to church Sunday stirred the recollections of a few old timers who were among the boys in the first troop organized in Sedalia back in 1910 at Calvary Episcopal church by the Rev. Douglass Atwill.

With the passing of over a half century, the National Council has many statistics on growth and what Scouting in America has accomplished. It would be interesting to have even an approximate figure on how many adults there are today who can testify to the influence Scouting had on their citizenship and leadership careers.

Admittedly, not all Scouts turn out to be good citizens. Those who don't are negligible, however. Acknowledgment must be given the huge part Scouting has played in the training of American youth in character values, citizenship skills and attitudes, and physical fitness.

Those not closely identified with Scouting or who have little knowledge of it are encouraged to inform themselves about it and perhaps find a place to serve as Scoutmaster, advisor, or in other capacities. Growth in membership is vital, too.

In these days when the spine of America needs to be stiffened, this week's theme of the Boy Scout week is certainly apropos:

"Strengthen America — Scouting Can Make the Difference."

Castro's Fishing Boats Watched CIA

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — This week, Feb. 15, marks the anniversary of the sinking of the Maine, an event which precipitated the United States into an unnecessary war.

There's only one member of the House of Representatives remaining who served in that war — the redoubtable 81-year-old Barratt O'Hara, Democrat of Chicago.

And since the United States now faces an emotionally dangerous crisis over Cuba and Guantanamo, it might be well to recall some of the events which precipitated the unnecessary war in which O'Hara fought.

1. President McKinley had on his desk an offer from the King of Spain to give us Cuba. Spain did not want a war. At heart, neither did McKinley. However, popular opinion, whipped up by certain newspapers and certain politicians, was too strong. McKinley never made public the note from the King of Spain. Instead, we went to war.

2. The politician who chiefly wanted war was Teddy Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy, who shortly after the sinking of the Maine resigned from the Navy to organize the 1st volunteer cavalry regiment and became a hero at the battle of San Juan Hill.

As a result of his heroism, T.R. later became vice president and a courageous president. But there's no question that he contributed to an unnecessary war. I'll probably get in wrong with my wife for reporting this because she was his cousin. Nevertheless, it was true.

Old-Fashioned Base

Regarding the present crisis, the Air Force and the Army recommended long before the showdown with Castro that we get rid of Guantanamo. They pointed out that modern missiles had made Guantanamo out of date and it could become a political liability. Furthermore, it was an old-fashioned, unnecessary expense.

However, the Navy vigorously disagreed. Guantanamo has long been a pleasant place for Navy personnel in ill health and a wonderful spot for senior officers nearing retirement.

So Guantanamo was retained. Today and for the past four years, ever since Castro took over Cuba, we could not give it up without appearing to retreat.

Despite all his past forebodings, and his frequent blasts against Uncle Sam, Castro never cut off Guantanamo's water until last week. His action now probably stems from three factors:

1 — Castro feels stronger today as a result of renewed Russian aid, the purchase of British buses, and the promised purchase of French trucks and railroad cars; also the expected visit of President De Gaulle. Though Khrushchev has carefully stayed away from Cuba, reportedly to keep from inflaming U. S. opinion, De Gaulle is expected to stop in Havana in mid-March.

2 — Castro knows the United States is on the spot in Panama and wanted to multiply American troubles in Latin-America.

3 — The Four Cuban fishing boats were actually watching CIA operations on the dry Tortugas Islands where CIA had set up a spy base in a decrepit old pirate's fortress from which agents were being smuggled into Cuba with fake passports to undermine Castro.

Castro was fully aware of this operation and had sent the four alleged fishing boats to report on the CIA and if possible intercept the agents before they landed in Cuba. The four boats were equipped not for fishing but with radio apparatus and CIA had picked up some of their conversations with Havana and put them on tape.

This was the real reason why the Coast Guard took the four boats into custody and why they were turned over to Florida authorities when no federal law could be found to hold them.

Thus both sides were spying on each other. Castro had caught the CIA cold with its spy base and CIA had caught Castro cold with his radio-equipped fishing trawlers.

So indignation over CIA espionage plus more security over Russian-British-French support probably led to the crack-down on Guantanamo water.

CIA Luxury

It's now leaked out that many of the intelligence surveys for the disastrous Bay of Pigs invasion were prepared by private corporations including General Electric, Radio Corporation of America, Aerojet, and Rand.

Despite the Bay of Pigs fiasco, these same companies were hired to prepare intelligence surveys for another possible invasion of Cuba during the October 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

Since then, government experts have complained privately that these corporations merely take out old intelligence reports and rewrite them, bringing them up to date. Despite this, private companies in 1963 wangled another $29 million worth of secret intelligence contracts.

Yet, Uncle Sam pays an untold number of millions to Central Intelligence to maintain one of the swankiest and most luxurious spying organizations in the world on the banks of the Potomac.

Threat To Supreme Court

Law enforcement officers in the nation's capital are alarmed over reports that right-wing extremists have formed a secret terrorist society which has marked Chief Justice Earl Warren for physical harm.

Members of the society also boasted that they intend to assassinate Dr. Martin Luther King, the Negro leader.

Under the law, Chief Justice Warren is given no protection by the Secret Service, the FBI, or any other protective agency. When he was in New York just before Christmas, he had an unpleasant encounter with right-wing pickets, but laughed it off. He remarked that the decrees of his court protected the right to picket.

But reports from extremists are far more ominous than a mere protest of pickets. Unquestionably the Chief Justice should be given permanent protection whether he wants it or not.

The World Today

Two Iron Tests for President Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two iron tests of President Johnson's ability — compared with President John F. Kennedy's — to get what he wants from Congress will lie in what happens to two of his major programs.

These—civil rights and medical care for the aged—are Johnson's two most controversial programs, as they were Kennedy's. Kennedy never got to first base with either of them.

There had been some preliminary action on civil rights by the time he died. Medical care remained frozen and unbudged in Congress for his entire presidency.

The test of Johnson's leadership with Congress is not in just getting passage of some kind of civil rights and medical care bills. The test is whether these bills, if and when passed, have strength and meaning.

When Johnson took office Congress was already fiddling with Kennedy's civil rights bill and one other major program, a tax cut. Johnson at once pushed them both as his own, exactly as he had inherited them.

By the time Kennedy died last November he had already lost hope on the medical care bill for 1963. Monday Johnson sent Congress his own message or medical care, asking for its passage this year.

But—there is one thing to be noted about this Johnson message. He didn't say he was asking for exactly the same bill Kennedy proposed. It seems fair to say he was suggesting a bill somewhat similar to Kennedy's.

The heart of Kennedy's proposal had been hospital insurance based on Social Security payments. Monday Johnson said this "is clearly the best method."

But he didn't spell out any of it in detail, whereas Kennedy did in each of his messages since 1961. For instance: 90 days of hospital care with a maximum of $90 to be paid by the patient.

The Kennedy bill faced granite opposition both in Congress and from the American Medical Association. Presumably, Johnson's will, too, if he tries to get exactly what Kennedy wanted, although he nowhere said he would.

If he can get a truly meaningful medical care bill through Congress this year, it should do him good with a lot of voters in the November presidential election. There are 17.5 million people over 65 in this country.

In Johnson's less than three months in the presidency this much is clear in any comparison with Kennedy: He is far more persistent in hounding Congress for action.

But action is not necessarily achievement. It can, through compromise, turn what looked like a strong presidential program into a toothless tiger. In Congress there are two kinds of compromise.

One, resisted fiercely until made necessary by the strength or reasonableness of the opposition, still manages to retain the original legislation's basic strength.

The other is just a performance—an illusion of action—that yields right and left until the final product is more symbol than substance.

The civil rights and medical care programs should reveal before the year is out how much Johnson means to fight for legislation with teeth or how much he is willing to compromise.

He called himself a compromiser once when he explained: "I'm a compromiser and a maverick. I try to get something. That's the way our system works."

He compromised a lot when he was leader of the Senate Democratic majority from 1955 until 1961 but he got a lot of legislation through, probably more than any other single member of Congress could have.

The fact that he did not spell out in detail what he wanted in a medical care bill may be a tip he is willing to compromise or this measure more than Kennedy.

In his less than three months as president, Johnson already has been impressive in handling Congress. He got Congress moving on both the tax cut and civil rights.

The Senate approved the tax cut last week. The House had already done so. It will become law shortly when the two houses iron out their differences. The House, after only nine days' debate, Monday night passed a stronger civil rights bill than Kennedy had originally asked.

The real test for Johnson on civil rights comes when the Senate tackles it and Southern Democrats try to kill it—or to force a compromise until the bill is gutted—with a filibuster.

After that gets through, in whatever shape, Johnson can begin his fight for medical care.

We the Women

Back Seat Driving Has

by Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Begin your back seat driving early. That seems to just about sum up the advice recently given to girls by William M. Coffey, manager of the AAA, Texas Division.

Says Mr. Coffey: "If girls will object to reckless driving on the part of their dates and adopt sensible, realistic approach to this matter, they will accomplish as much or more than the combined efforts of parents, teachers, and traffic officers."

In addition, he pointed out that every girl who joins in such an effort will be doing herself a big favor by sharply reducing her own chances of being crippled or disfigured in a needless auto accident.

He might have added a kind word for back seat driving, in general.

For the truth of the matter is, whether she is 16 or 60, a woman is usually more cautious in a car than a man is.

When she is of dating age her fear in an automobile is of being thrown through a windshield and ruining her face — and her marriage chances.

When she is a wife and mother she worries about her safety because she doesn't know what would become of the children if something happened to her.

When she is older still, reckless driving frightens her just because she thinks it is foolish to take unnecessary risks.

Few men worry as much as most women do about driving safety. Most men seem to feel that they are good enough drivers to control a car under any and all conditions — even if they are taking chances. It irks them to think that the woman beside them doesn't share their confidence.

But women, young, old, and middle-aged, owe it to themselves and to the men who drive them to risk displeasure by back seat driving whenever they are frightened by the way the man at the wheel is taking chances.

U.S. Toughens Arsenal Against Nuclear Attack

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Below the surface of debate over reliability of U.S. missiles lies a definite scientific problem we are moving with all possible haste to correct.

Responsible missile scientists question after a strong Russian nuclear attack how many missiles we are certain will be usable and accurate. The damage they fear is from radiation and neutrons which would be liberated by enemy blasts.

With conventional circuitry, high-intensity radiation pulses from a nuclear explosion can scramble the memory of a missile guidance computer, prematurely trigger a decision circuit and cause other equipment malfunction.

A one-megaton explosion in space will produce a crippling 10-million-roentgen-per-second pulse more than 110 miles away. Effects of these pulses have been measured through almost a quarter of a mile of earth.

Steps are being taken to correct these difficulties. The Defense Department is installing circuits, tubes, insulation and sensing devices better able to withstand this electromagnetic pulse.

Some components are being sealed in vacuum so there is no air to be ionized and cause stray currents. Components made of metal-ceramic combinations are being substituted for components made of radiation-susceptible organic materials.

Some circuits will be kept at high temperatures to defeat the effects of sudden electromagnetic pulses. Some parts of the missile control system are being rejiggered to operate at higher frequency levels less likely to be affected by the electromagnetic pulse sent out by a nuclear explosion.

Missiles and their sites are being hardened against radiation as well as blast. Shielding is being inserted to protect sensitive components.

The nuclear test ban makes full-scale tests of the new equipment impossible. Small-scale tests have been satisfactory. By mathematical interpolation, the defense scientists reason, the Minuteman and Titan missile complexes probably will stand up—when refurbishing is completed—against electromagnetic pulses sent out by all nuclear explosions, except those that are large and close by.

"But we're not certain beyond all doubt," says one scientist. "And in defense we must be absolutely certain; that's why we're keeping the intercontinental bombers, too."

The reason for lingering doubt is simple. It isn't always possible to know what big-scale pulses will do simply by making small-scale tests and applying mathematics.

Therefore the Defense Department is pushing a series of experimental projects aimed at working out new techniques for testing the effects of nuclear explosions and electromagnetic pulses on the complex electronics of our missile systems.

By this same test of reliability, bombers would seem to be even less reliable than the big missiles. That is, a smaller percentage of intercontinental bombers would probably live through an all-out Soviet nuclear attack. Fewer would get through Red defenses.

Polaris submarines should be in better shape. If they're hidden in the seas, far from targets, it's unlikely that large nuclear weapons will explode nearby. The water also helps damp any electromagnetic pulse.

The Pentagon theory, therefore, is that a combination of Minutemen, Titans, Polaris submarines and intercontinental bombers should guarantee there will be enough missiles and bombers workable to defeat the Soviet Union if Khrushchev should attack—or to deter him from doing so.

Is Colic Imaginary? A Question Asked Often

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Is there really such a thing as colic, or is it a disease which exists only in the minds of new mothers? The question is far from settled. Here are the facts:

Most babies, when first brought home from the hospital, do a fair amount of crying. These babies can be divided into two groups: those who sleep about 22 hours a day and do most of their crying between 6 and 10 p.m. and those who cry off and on day and night but mostly at night.

The easiest explanation in both cases is that these babies have gas in the digestive tract that is causing pain and making them cry. But let's look at the broad canvas.

The newborn baby, unlike a colt or a newborn elephant, cannot walk. He has to get his exercise some way. So when he cries he puts his whole body into it. If the parents recognize this as a normal activity and don't worry about it, the crying spells should not be unusually troublesome.

Gas in the stomach and intestines is there all right but it is swallowed air. The more the baby cries the more air he swallows. This has been proved by X-ray studies. The gas, therefore, is a result of his crying and not the cause of it.

First-born babies are more likely to go through a "colicky" period of three or four months than subsequent infants because the parents are more tense with a first child and if there's one thing a baby can sense from earliest infancy, it is tension. If the tension is the result of family discord, the baby will most likely be one of those who cries off and on all night.

With these facts in mind, most doctors had just about given up using the word "colic" when along came some reports from Dr. W. L. Bradford (former Sedalian) and his co-workers at the University of Rochester that seem to indicate that there is more to this problem than meets the eye. In studies on colicky and noncolicky babies they found that the colicky babies did not have a chemical compound (pregnanediol glucuronide) in their urine that is found in the urine of noncolicky babies.

This compound is derived from the progesterone in the blood. At birth all babies have a supply of it inherited from the mother, but, as this supply diminishes, some babies are not as prompt at manufacturing their own as others. If progesterone is given to them twice a day for seven to 10 days, their colic quickly disappears.

These two viewpoints do not necessarily contradict each other. There are some colicky infants whose trouble is a bad emotional environment and others who need a little supplementary hormone to tide them over.

Democrat Pick-ups

THERE WAS ONLY one child at the Daughters of Isabella card party and she was seven-year old Pamela Venable.

When it came time for the drawing for the door prize Pamela, because she was the only youngest there, was asked to draw the lucky number.

The box, which had close to 300 names, was held high over Pamela's head and the little girl stood on her tip-toes and reached deep down in the box, bringing forth a card with a name on it.

Everybody was listening to see whose name was drawn—and the chairman looked at the name and then grinned.

The little girl had done a good job drawing — for printed on the card was her very own name — Pamela Venable.—H.L.

Bird songs tend to be high-pitched (perhaps correlated with birds' high rate of metabolism) and their hearing range surpasses that of humans. Notes tend to be short and arranged in a pattern. It is true that some songs are repeated over and over with slight variation, but birds may have shorter and weaker memories than we have, so the monotony may not be apparent to them.

Fast Paced February Expected By Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen like everyone else are used to sitting out February.

The weather can snarl production schedules and transportation and delay the start of new projects.

Industrial production, therefore, is as likely as not to drop or slacken and unemployment to rise. The post-Christmas sales have seen their heyday and any Easter buildup hopes are chilled by February's winds and snows.

Three years ago the last recession hit the bottom of the cycle in February. This time businessmen are more optimistic than then or even than just a year ago—but for the months ahead more than for this one.

Missionary Society In Regular Meet

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 5:45 p.m., to hear the book "Apogee" taught by Mrs. A. B. Constantz, state director of WMU work.

The study was on the work of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

After the first session, a contributive meal was served and the second session opened with special music by Mrs. James Gwinn and Miss Jodelle Shoemaker.

Mrs. Constantz then presented the rest of the book and showed a film strip, "Fruits of Faith" showing the different home mission fields.

Several women from New Hope WMS also attended the meeting.

On Thursday, Feb. 6, at 1:30 the day circles met for their missionary program meeting.

Mrs. Richard Deadman presented the program, "The Chaplain and His Work," using a panel of women composed of Mrs. John Goddard, Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Darrell Bail and Mrs. Dale Miley, reporting on Military Institutional, Hospital and Industrial Chaplaincy departments. Mrs. A. J. Weaver dismissed the program with a prayer.

A playlet emphasizing the "Weeks of Prayer for Home Missions — March 1-6," was given by Mrs. John St. Clair, prayer chairman, and Mrs. Ray Logan, stewardship chairman. Other matters of business were settled and the meeting adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Howard Gwinn.

Group 2, CWF, First Christian Church, meets at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Everett Stumpf, 611 West 32nd.

Yet, many are hoping that, weather permitting, this February won't be as slow as the month usually is, even if it does have an extra day in which to be ornery.

Just ahead is the promise of larger take-home pay—perhaps starting with the first of next month.

Merchants are counting on that to give their spring business a big push, although some wish Easter didn't come quite so early this year.

The construction industry is planning for a nice advance, once the weather lets outdoor projects get under way. Recent contract awards point to a busy spring.

And even in February some of the big wheels of industry are turning faster than usual.

Steel output is the highest since last June. And demand is exceeding earlier expectations, interpreted by most mills as assuring a busy spring.

Auto production this month is predicted to run 9 per cent ahead of last February. And this comes on top of January output that set a record for the month.

New orders for factory goods managed to rise in spite of the weather this winter and in disregard of the long uptrend in business that many feared would be leveling off. Orders for soft goods did most of the rising. This may be because merchants are counting on sales of these products getting the first big lift from the rise in take-home pay after the federal tax cut.

But manufacturers all along the line are raising their sights. This shows up in a sizable increase in recent weeks in plans of business to spend for expansion and new equipment.

This February has one thing that even the snowdrifts can't stall. Almost daily big and small corporations have been reporting pleasant increases in their profits. The reports are for the year that is past. But many have inspired raises in dividend rates. And this extra money will reach stockholders in the weeks ahead, some of it even in the four month of February.

The expectation, also, is that the trend will continue.

Once this month is over, everyone keeps telling himself, all should be better.

Mrs. Hacker Hosts Green Ridge Garden Club Luncheon Meet

Mrs. C. R. Hacker assisted by Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mrs. Glenda Inselman was hostess to the Green Ridge Garden Club on Friday afternoon, at her home northwest of Green Ridge.

Mrs. W. L. Whittall presided at the meeting and presented Mrs. Ethel Sims and Miss Nola Barrow who gave an interesting program on "What's New in Seed Catalogues." Miss Barrow told about the new flowers for 1964 and Mrs. Sims told about the new vegetables for 1964. Miss Barrow read a poem, "Winter Gardens," by Hazel Lang.

Mrs. Gertrude Helman reported that the Missouri State Fair Flower Shows for 1964 would be staged as they have been for the past several years.

The Club voted to enter the Advanced Invitational Show on Friday of the Fair. The club will exhibit horticulture specimens and a few arrangements in this show.

Mrs. Helman also read the Spring Flower Show schedule, "Fashions in Flowers," of the Green Ridge Club. The show is scheduled to be staged on May 12, 1964.

A dessert course carrying out the motif and colors of St. Valentine's Day was served at 1:30 p.m. to 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Terry Durrill.

The March meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Virgil Lane in Windsor. Mrs. Verna Palmer will present the program.

Film Producer Is Big Man With Ideas About Future

NEW YORK (AP)—Ely A. Landau, 44, is a big man with a big dream.

The thick-set film producer, little known to the public, has become something of a landmark in the entertainment world in recent years.

His dream?

"In 1946 about 80 million people went to the movies each week," he said. "By 1962 the figure had fallen to 42½ million a week. I wanted to do something to help recover that vast lost audience."

First, let's have a little background on Landau.

"My life is a rags to tatters story," he said, but it isn't at all.

Landau, son of a waiter, was born on the Lower East Side of New York and went to work after graduating from high school. "I went from store to store selling flavors, extracts—anything a fellow could do to try and find himself."

During World War II he spent four years in the Air Transport Command, emerged as a sergeant, then tried to become corn-chip king of the metropolitan area. He didn't.

"I picked the wrong brand of corn chips," he recalled.

After a brief period with an advertising agency, Landau raised a couple of thousand dollars to form a pioneering company in film syndication for television.

In a few years the company owned three television stations, was producing 20 film or tape series, and was doing an annual business of $25 million.

Army Contributions Ordered In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia's armed forces have been ordered to make immediate special contributions to help ease this country's growing food crisis, the military announced today.

An armed forces staff statement published by Antara news agency did not spell out in what form the contribution would be, but the implication was that it would involve distribution of food in areas suffering from acute shortages.

Red Military Items Given to Cambodia

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia announced Monday night that Soviet military equipment has been presented as a gift to Cambodia by Premier Khrushchev. The nature and quantity of the materiel was not specified.

In 1959, the firm which Landau had founded for $2,000 only five years before was sold by him and other shareholders for $14 million.

Landau then invaded the film field, bought two small movie houses in Manhattan, and plans to produce 10 pictures over a three-year period.

Those who feel that Hollywood has become tradition-bound and out of touch with modern-day audiences find a ready ally in Landau.

"There is no greater wasteland in the entertainment world today than the movie wasteland," he said.

The answer, he feels, lies in $700,000 to $900,000 quality pictures with an adult appeal. To him the industry's reliance on $20-million to $30-million blockbuster epics is "a form of Russian roulette."

Green Ridge Presbyterian Women's Meet

United Presbyterian Women's Association of the Green Ridge Church held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday at the church, with the Ruth circle in charge of the contributive luncheon.

Due to the illness of the president, Mrs. Glen Morrow, Mrs. A. M. Kendrick presided at the executive meeting and also at the regular business meeting and program.

Mrs. Loy Smith was in charge of the program, "Sponsoring Through Understanding." It was a program showing the work of Ecumenical Missions. The following women assisted her with the program: Mrs. S. A. Sloan, Mrs. Charles D. Likely, Mrs. L. B. Beach, Mrs. J. A. Gordon, Miss Nola Barrow, Mrs. Maude Ward and Mrs. Russell H. Miller. Mrs. C. R. Hacker presented the Mission Year Book of Prayer service for mission workers in Manhattan Emmanuel Church in Manhattan, N. Y. and in the University Christian Center in Lebanon, Asia, and offered prayer for them.

Mrs. J. A. Gordon announced that a World Day of Prayer service was being prepared and would be held on Friday afternoon, Feb. 14 at the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church at 2 p.m.

Mrs. L. B. Beach discussed having a used clothing drive. The members voted to begin collecting good used clothing to be sent to Church World Service Center in St. Louis, Mo. where it will be distributed to needy people of the world.

The meeting closed with a benediction repeated in unison.

City Champs Win Soccer Contest 2-1

Freese Dairy, city soccer champs, whipped a Midget team compiled of Optimist and Lions Clubs players, 2-1 Sunday in a warm-up game preparatory to going to St. Louis for the Khourey soccer tournament there this weekend.

Freese Dairy, in the Bantam League, has undergone some rigorous practice sessions under Coach Kent Maxfield, and are in prime shape for the tournament. But the Midgets gave them a hard game of it despite the fact that they hadn't received as much practice recently.

Eddie Lyles drew first blood for Freese Dairy with a penalty kick in the first half of play, followed by a long, high kick from sparkling Sammy Gravitt, who has been a mainstay for his team all season.

The Midgets got their only score from Mark Vaseen, also in the first half of the game.

Maxfield, who got quite a bit of valuable experience while with the U.S. Navy, has formed his Freese Dairy team into a fast and hard-working unit. The team, managed by Cleo Lees, was good enough to become city champions, and is expected to go places in the St. Louis tournament.

season under Coach Joe Cipriano, are in fourth place, but one game from first after upsetting the Cowboys 54-53 Monday night. A year ago, the Huskers upset OSU at Lincoln 49-48, knocking them out of the title race. It was Nebraska's only league victory of the season.

Colorado belted Oklahoma 86-65 at Boulder and climbed into the three-way deadlock with OSU and idle K-State, all with 5-2. Nebraska stands 4-3, with Kansas fifth at 4-4.

Missouri was beaten 83-79 by Iowa State at Ames and dropped to sixth at 3-4, a notch ahead of Iowa State's 3-5. Oklahoma trails at 1-8.

Charlie Jones, a hot shooting lefty, again led the Huskers, this time with 14 points. He hit 23 when Nebraska forced K-State into overtime before losing a week ago, and 20 more in a double overtime victory over Oklahoma Saturday.

The Huskers hit 52 per cent of their field shots to Oklahoma State's 29 per cent, took a 33-30 halftime lead, increased it to 39-34 and stayed in front the rest of the way. Gene Johnson's 16 led OSU.

Jim Davis, the Big Eight's top backboard man two straight seasons, scored 19 points, and grabbed 15 rebounds for Colorado, which won easily. Jim Gatewood's 16 led Oklahoma.

The Iowa State hero was Bob Vander Wilt, who scored 20 points in his first starting job. Ray Carey and Gary Garner had 25 each for Missouri. Iowa State hit 55 per cent of its field shots—66 per cent the last half.

From a 40-38 halftime edge, the Cyclones spurted on but were in constant trouble. Mis-

Dupas String Might Be Running Out

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The string may be running out for Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans swifty who has spent almost half of his 28 years in the fight game.

Dupas, a crafty stylist who had been stopped only twice in his first 124 bouts since turning pro 13 years ago, was a knock-out victim for the third time in six months Monday.

Welterweight champion Emile Griffith floored Dupas three times in the second of a scheduled 12-round nontitle meeting here, then took the veteran out at two minutes of the third heat.

Dupas said he'll lay off boxing for four or five months, then make up his mind about the future.

Dupas, who has been out of the United States for seven months, said he will return home in March after taking a holiday in Australia.

Dupas' head struck the canvas on the fourth and final knockdown and an anxious Griffith spent the next five minutes at the fallen fighter's side.

An ambulance crew rushed into the ring and, with Dupas' handlers, mopped blood from the unconscious fighter's face and applied ice packs to the back of his neck.

Dupas finally came around and the two fighters left the ring.

Griffith said later he wasn't thinking of Benny Paret's death under similar circumstances, while Dupas was out. But there was no doubt that the Virgin Islands-born champion was concerned deeply.

Paret, one-time welterweight champ, died after being battered and then knocked out by Griffith in an April, 1962, title fight.

It was Dupas' second loss to Griffith, who decided the Louisiana campaigner in a 1962 title go. Ralph has won 99, lost 22 and fought to draws eight times. He may be ready to call it a career after Monday's third straight 10-count.

souri got a 65-63 edge but Iowa State moved in front to stay at 73-72 with five minutes left.

Colorado plays at Nebraska Saturday, Oklahoma at Kansas, K-State at Missouri and Oklahoma State at Iowa State. A four-way first place tie at 5-3 is possible, should Nebraska beat the Buffs and the other two leaders lose on the road.

Cape Beats Springfield State Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cape Girardeau State defeated Springfield State 77-70 and Kirksville State trounced Warrensburg State 101-59 in MIAA basketball games Monday night.

That leaves Cape with a 6-1 record and Warrensburg and Kirksville tied for second place at 5-3. Cape, with three games left, can wrap up a tie for the title by winning at Kirksville Saturday.

Warrensburg's downfall at Kirksville was the surprise of the season. The Mules were expected to give Kirksville a battle but ran into a tight man-to-man defense that held Bud Vallino to 15 points and Bob Caine to six. The other Mules had to do most of the shooting and the team wound up with a 22 per cent mark.

Kirksville shot a hot 55 per cent, led by Wayne Clinton with 30 points. The Bulldogs led 40-15 at the half.

Cape's Indians had a tight tussle with visiting Springfield. Cape came from behind to tie the score at 62-all for the 15th time with 8:15 left. The lead had changed hands 22 times before Tom Drexler led a Cape charge that gave the Indians a 69-62 advantage.

Naemon Townsend led Cape with 17 points. Danny Bolden made 20 for Springfield.

William Penn of Iowa defeated Graceland 78-56 at Lamoni. Lincoln beat Wilberforce of Ohio 111-74 at Jefferson City.

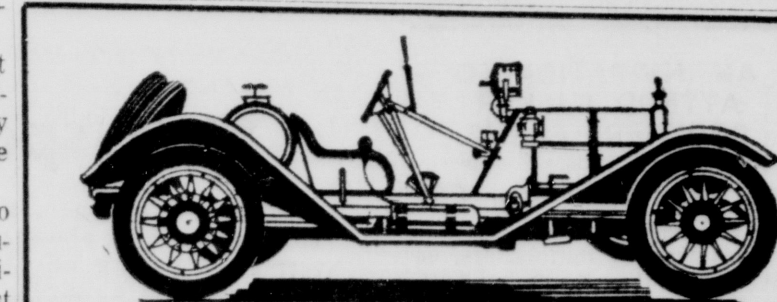

Tonight's games: Rolla at Evangel, Springfield at Southern Illinois, Rockhurst at Missouri Valley, William Jewell at Tarkio Central Methodist at Westminster.

Put Stadium Lease Dispute In Laps of AL Club Owners

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mayor Ilius W. Davis has put the city's stadium lease dispute with Charles O. Finley in the laps of the American League club owners by refusing impartial arbitration, offered by league President Joe Cronin.

Both Finley and the league refused to disclose Finley's reaction to the arbitration proposal. The club owners have given Finley until Saturday to sign a lease in Kansas City, or face expulsion from the league. The original deadline of Feb. 1 was extended two weeks.

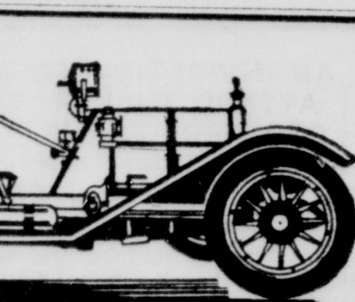

It's questionable whether the league owners are prepared to follow through with this order and take over the franchise of the Athletics.

Finley himself has said "there's not a chance in the world they can take my franchise away from me." Finley threatened to go to court, after the league rejected his bid to move to Louisville Jan. 16.

A minority of the owners and Cronin were known to favor compromise of some type, such as a three-year pact or arbitration, before the last negotiation.

Jerry Lucas' Shooting Eye Is Still Good

NEW YORK (AP)—A year's absence from playing basketball hasn't dimmed the shooting eye of Jerry Lucas, a prime candidate for Rookie of the Year honors in the National Basketball Association.

Lucas joined the Cincinnati Royals at the start of the current campaign after sitting out last season. The 6-foot-8, 230-pounder had been a three-time All-America at Ohio State and was the Royals' 1962 territorial draft choice.

The transition from the collegians to the pro ranks hasn't affected the play of Lucas, who tops the NBA in field goal percentage and is the fourth leading rebounder.

Wichita and Villanova, each an upset victim, each dropped two places. Wichita fell to sixth after losing to Bradley 76-74 and Villanova slipped to eighth after losing to LaSalle 63-59.

Vanderbilt, which scored over Alabama, Tulane and Louisiana State, moved up one to seventh. Oregon State took over ninth and DePaul is 10th.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, season records through Saturday, Feb. 8 and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Bruins Still Atop Weekly Press Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins, bombing along unbeaten, remain atop the weekly Associated Press basketball poll virtually without challenge.

The Bruins, the only major college basketball team still unbeaten, polled all but two of the 35 first place ballots cast Monday by a special panel of sportswriters and sportscasters throughout the nation.

Mighty Michigan and on-rushing Kentucky remained in the second and third place slots but most of the other teams in the select crew were shaken up in the weekly voting.

The biggest changes involved defending national champion Chicago Loyola, which dropped out of the Top Ten, and Oregon State, unranked a week ago and now No. 9.

Loyola lost both outings last week, 65-60 to Wichita and 71-69 to St. John's of New York. Oregon State improved its record to 24-2 with a pair of victories over Portland, 97-68 and 95-61.

UCLA, 19-0 for the season, beat California twice, 87-67 and 58-56, and gained 347 points in the poll on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, eight for third and so on.

Michigan, 16-2, got 298 points, including one first place ballot, despite an early week 86-85 setback by Ohio State. Kentucky, 17-2 through the weekend, was a close third with 282 points.

Davidson beat Georgia Southern and William and Mary and moved up one notch to fourth while Duke, which gained the only other first place vote jumped two places to fifth. Davidson is 18-1 and Duke beat North Carolina State and Maryland for a 15-3 mark through the weekend.

Wichita and Villanova, each an upset victim, each dropped two places. Wichita fell to sixth after losing to Bradley 76-74 and Villanova slipped to eighth after losing to LaSalle 63-59.

Vanderbilt, which scored over Alabama, Tulane and Louisiana State, moved up one to seventh. Oregon State took over ninth and DePaul is 10th.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

The fuel is regular. The performance is premium.

Premium performance doesn't cost a nickel extra in a '64 Dodge. Because under that handsome hood lurks the largest standard engine in the low-price field (318 cu. in. V8). It doesn't cost you extra at the gas pump, either! Regular grade fuel suits it just fine.

Dodge is as luxurious as it is lively. The Polara 2-door hardtop above, for instance, features a rich saddle-grain vinyl interior, a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest, foam seat padding, and thick wall-to-wall carpeting—all standard equipment. Yet it's priced right with comparable models of Ford and Chevrolet.

In all, there are twenty-two Dodge models to choose from. In three series. Each is a low-priced car. And each is backed by a long, strong 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.* You could easily pay more for such a fine automobile, but why should you? See your Dependable Dodge Dealer instead!

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1964 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), brake converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. Required Maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 8 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 8 months furnish evidence of the required service in a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to carry receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

The final score was Drake 64, Wichita 63. And that's the way it will go into the books. But the question remains: Was it legit?

Wichita coach Ralph Miller says no. Scorebooks kept by newsmen covering the game support him.

Billy Foster connected on a 20-foot jump shot at the buzzer to complete the Drake rally against the nationally sixth-ranked Wheatshockers. The victory also vaulted the Bulldogs over Wichita and into first place in the Missouri Valley Conference.

But should Foster have been in the game?

He was charged with a personal foul about five minutes before the end. Miller protested at the time that it was Foster's fifth, which would have taken him out of action. Newsmen covering the game agreed that it was his fifth.

But the official scorers' book had it No. 4 and he was allowed to continue play.

The loss was the second straight for Wichita and reduced its conference mark to 6-2, 17-5 over-all. Drake now is 5-1 in the league, 15-4 over-all.

Kentucky and Duke, the only other ranked teams in action, rolled along on schedule. No. 3 Kentucky boosted its record to 18-2 with a 65-59 edge over Mississippi State and No. 5 Duke, 16-3, bombed Virginia 80-59.

Aside from Drake's triumph, one of the biggest upsets was Nebraska's 54-53 surprise of Oklahoma State. That, combined with Colorado's 86-65 conquest of Oklahoma threw the Big Eight lead into a three-way tie. Colorado, Oklahoma State and Kansas State all are 5-2 in the league.

All-America Gary Bradts continued his blistering scoring pace for Ohio State and led the Buckeyes to a 110-92 Big Ten victory over Illinois.

Bradts scored a school high 49 points on 17 of 29 from the field and 15 of 16 free throws. It was the fifth straight game in which he had scored 40 or more points and gave him 226 points in his last five starts.

It other major action, Cincinnati edged Houston 66-59 in overtime. Texas Western beat Denver 62-48, Iowa State outlasted Missouri 83-79, Tennessee routed Mississippi 92-54. Creighton whipped Miami, Fla., 124-94, Alabama nipped Georgia 72-70, Iowa beat Indiana 82-75, Auburn blasted Florida 79-58, Virginia Tech got by William and Mary 90-86, Memphis State took Florida State 84-71 and Oklahoma City mauled New Orleans Loyola 77-54.

Black Hawk Stan Mikita Is Scoring

MONTREAL (AP)—Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks is scoring at a record-breaking pace in the National Hockey League point-production race with 70 points in 54 games.

But the Black Hawks' All-Star center will have to step up his tempo if he hopes to better the season's scoring mark set by Dickie Moore in 1958-59.

Moore scored 96 points with the Montreal Canadiens that season and had 59 points in 54 games. The retired left winger then closed with a rush, collecting a whopping 37 points in his last 16 games.

At Mikita's current rate, he would accumulate 91 points, five less than Moore's output.

Mikita opened a six-point lead in the scoring race over teammate Bobby Hull last week. League figures showed today that Mikita accounted for three points while Hull had one.

Mikita has 30 goals and 40 assists while Hull has collected 64 points on 33 tallies and 31 assists. Montreal's Jean Beliveau is third in the scoring race with 60 points and New York's Andy Bathgate ranks fourth with 57 points.

AFL's Future Book Doing Good Business

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Football League's "future book" is doing a brisk business, according to an AFL proclamation issued Monday.

The young pro circuit announced that 19 future draft choices — double the number signed a year ago—have agreed to terms with AFL clubs.

The red shirts—players drafted in advance in 1962 when they had a year's college eligibility left after their original classes were graduated—include Baylor quarterback Don Trull, Penn State signal-caller Pete Liske, New Mexico halfback Preacher Pilot and Tulsa pass-catcher J. B. Simmons, all first-round selections.

Trull accepted the Houston Oilers' $90,000, three-year package over a bid by Baltimore of the rival National League. Liske, Pilot and Simmons, all high NFL picks, signed with New York, Kansas City and Buffalo of the AFL.

Kansas City came up with a bumper crop of red shirts in addition to Pilot. Pittsburgh line-men Ernie Borghetti and John Maczuzak, Georgia Tech half-back Joe Auer, Mississippi

Southern end Bill Freeman and Southwest Louisiana tackle Lowell Vaughn signed with the Chiefs.

Houston also landed Mississippi center Ken Dill and Texas tackle Staley Faulkner. The Oilers outbid Pittsburgh for Scott Appleton, Faulkner's illustrious running mate, in the 1963 grab-bag.

Prize Fight Promoters Always Have A Problem

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(NEA)—Life as a prize fight promoter is just one problem after another for William Bernard MacDonald, Jr.

Having set the top price for the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay scrap at Miami Beach Feb. 25 at an unprecedented $250, Bill MacDonald now is confronted with the job of keeping the $100 section from becoming a slum area by comparison.

After MacDonald, the one-time bus driver and hotel door man, announced what he calls the Golden Horseshoe at $250 a rattle, one sports columnist wrote that while a sucker might be born every minute few would pay that much to see Liston fight Clay.

"A day or two later," recalled MacDonald, "I got a letter and check for $3,000 from the writer's publisher who wanted a dozen tickets. I called the writer, showed him the check and told him to go tell the publisher what a big sucker he was."

"The $250 seats are for guys who wouldn't be found dead coming out of the rear end of a jet airliner," MacDonald, who guaranteed $625,000 as a live gate, went on. "It's a status symbol. People who buy $250 tickets are the kind who like to impress and entertain. Prestige stuff."

"Besides I'm only beating the scalpers. If the top price was $150, the scalpers would keep the other $100 for themselves. If they can scalp $250 tickets, I say more power to them."

The Scotsman of many interests — all big — has an answer for everything. His Golden Circle, where "distinguished sportsmen only" get a gold-

More Speed, Power

Braves In Better Shape To Challenge for Pennant

By BOBBY BRAGAN
Milwaukee Braves

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Braves are in better position to challenge for the National League pennant than at any time since I came to Milwaukee.

When the 1963 season ended, I said I felt we needed more speed and power. I also said I felt we were just two men away from being a contender.

Well, we got the two men in the trade we completed with the Giants. In acquiring Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey, we got the speed and power we needed to become a challenger for the National League pennant.

The trade made us more solid and diversified than ever before. For the first time since the Braves' pennant winning years, we have an outfield that appears set with Henry Aaron in right, Alou in center and Lee Maye, backed by Ty Cline, Don Dillard, Mack Jones and Len Gabrielson in left.

Alou not only adds speed and defensive ability but he should help us in the run-making department. He hits with consistency and power. His batting average dropped a bit last year but he still had 20 homers and 82 runs batted in.

Roberts Inks '64 Contract With Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Robin Roberts, the old pro with the enthusiasm of a rookie, can't wait for the start of his 17th major league baseball season.

"I feel fine, and am looking forward to pitching again this year," Roberts said after the Baltimore Orioles announced the 37-year-old right-hander had signed his 1964 contract.

Roberts is believed to have signed for an estimated $30,000, the same salary he received last year when he turned in a 14-13 record for the Orioles. Although it was the highest victory total since he won 15 for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1959, Roberts wasn't satisfied.

"I want to do better than I did last year," Robin said in a telephone interview from his home in Meadowbrook, Pa. "I pitched well enough to keep on pitching, but I wasn't really excited about my performance."

"I thought we should have done better last year," he said. "I thought we had an outstanding ball club, but we weren't as consistent as we should have been."

Roberts said he feels stronger now than he has for some time—explaining that during his last couple of seasons at Philadelphia he "acquired a lot of aches trying so hard."

After winning only one game in 1961, Roberts captured 24 decisions during the past two seasons to increase his lifetime major league total to 258. He ranks second to Milwaukee's Warren Spahn among active hurlers, and is rated as a threat to reach the 300 mark before retiring.
